To most effectively present your business on the Internet, it is increasingly important to stay current on the latest Web technologies. This course enhances your Web-related expertise by educating you on how best to implement and administer Citrix® NFuse™ in a Citrix MetaFrame™ environment. This course is designed to train Citrix MetaFrame administrators on how to create Web pages using Citrix NFuse to offer Citrix MetaFrame-published applications via the Web. This course is not intended for Web masters.

Course Length One day

Prerequisite Successful completion of a Citrix MetaFrame Administration course (Windows® or UNIX®), and a technical interest in providing ICA clients with applications via the Web or a knowledge of publishing applications in a Citrix MetaFrame environment and accessing applications via a Citrix ICA® client

Skills and Key Topics At the end of this course, you will be able to:

- Understand Citrix Program Neighborhood™, Application Launching and Embedding, Citrix NFuse architecture, Citrix NFuse components and the Citrix NFuse interface
- Install and configure Citrix NFuse on the Citrix server, Web server and ICA Client system
- Install and use the website wizard to create Web pages
- Understand the contents of the ICA file and how to edit and customize it
- Modify a Citrix NFuse Web page. Also, learn to implement and modify COM, Java™ Beans and JARs objects in Citrix NFuse
- Troubleshoot problems encountered when using Citrix NFuse
- Understand the limitations of HTML and DHTML, as well as information about Microsoft® Internet Explorer® v4 browser-specific DHTML and how to create cross-browser DHTML
- Understand an overview of the ICA file components

Now everything computes.™

Instructional Method Interactive presentation and application through labs and group activities
